Exhibition

Archaeological Fieldwork in Estonia 2023

Every year around 200–250 archaeological surveys and excavations are carried out in Estonia. The travelling exhibition, organised by the Estonian Association of Archaeologists, presents the results of 19 individual projects from 2023. In addition to research carried out at burial and settlement sites, Iron Age hillforts and Medieval castles, the richly illustrated exhibition showcases the results from urban and underwater archaeology projects as well as the most significant finds discovered by metal detecting in 2023. Admission free of charge. The exhibition was supported by Eesti Kultuurkapital, Arheograator OÜ, Arheoloogiakeskus MTÜ, Arheox OÜ and Muinasprojekt OÜ.
